Notes Attached to this Report

Cervantes currently has some $296000 of liquid assets and listed shares which can be disposed of as and when required to meet ongoing expenditures, and when deemed appropriate, the Company will exchange assets from time to time for improving the medium to longer term goals and to diversify the operations.

The Board continues to assess projects, offers and opportunities which it believes will add value to Cervantes shares, based on market conditions, sector activity, and ASX compliance requirements, as well as ensuring the risk to reward ratio favours the Company and its shareholders.

Cervantes was offered an opportunity to participate in a very prospective iron tailings project as a result of its past experience, its expertise and knowledge through its connections and consultants of working on tailings dumps through its subsidiary "Cervantes Gold Pty Ltd". Whilst Cervantes has collected data and analysed that data as part of the initial due diligence process in regards to this project it has elected not to proceed at this stage.

Cervantes has however been approached by a Group with new technology in regards to processing the Company's interests in the JV Gold Tailings deposit in WA and a separate Technology Group has been appointed to re assess other aspects of the material for other treatment options. Cervantes has been investing in and reporting on this project for some years now and with the gold price and market conditions improving, is re instating its assessment of the venture.

Cervantes continues to be advised on the progress of the Iron Sands (Titanomagnetite) project in the Philippines, where Cervantes has an opportunity to participate via a secured Loan, interest bearing and Profit Sharing arrangement over the project. Cervantes was granted first right of refusal, in the event that the party wished to joint venture or dispose of part or all of the venture in the future, on terms that are mutually acceptable to both parties. The grant came as a result of Cervantes introducing the project to a listed company who currently provides financial assistance to assess the technical and other merits of the project, via an unlisted public company that controls the project, which has since suffered financial difficulties. Cervantes has reached the stage of now having serious discussions in relation to preparing an agreement on the venture, but emphasise that any such agreement will have a number of conditions precedent and will be subject to satisfactory discussions with the ASX, and share holder approval.

Cervantes continues to be one of the least expensive run companies on the ASX with minimal directors' fees, totalling some combined $72,000 per annum with no direct staff and office administration cost of some $60,000 per annum. This austerity will continue until the Directors and management are able to be adequately rewarded for their time, and for the ever increasing liabilities, and responsibilities attached to being directors of a public company imposed on them by politicians, the ASX and the ASIC.

Whilst market conditions for junior companies have been very difficult for some time, but improving, Cervantes is hopeful of moving forward in a more positive manner in the next few months.

Cervantes, based on its current assets and cash, has sufficient reserves to meet its costs and expenses for the next 2 quarters, as and when they fall due.
